

On November 14th, Secretary Acosta of the Massachusetts Executive Office of Labor and Workforce Development visited Mack Technologies in Westford to celebrate National Apprenticeship Week. Funded through the Massachusetts Apprenticeship Initiative and coordinated by the Northeast Advanced Manufacturing Consortium (NAMC), Mack Technologies hosts 8 apprentices from the Greater Lowell Area . Secretary Acosta presented a Gubernatorial Citation to Mack Technologies and praised them for their adoption of the apprenticeship model. She recognized their investment in their workforce and their commitment to the career development of their employees.

John Kovach, Executive V.P. of Global Operations led a tour and presentation, providing an overview of company operations at the Westford location and background on their global operations. Mack Technologies is a leading provider of complex electronic manufacturing services (EMS) providing services to a diverse group of industries including defense and aerospace, medical devices, industrial, energy, communications, and networking. To learn more visit <http://www.macktech.com/>

